II. INTRODUCTION

On May 19, 2005, the Director issued an Order (the "Blue Lakes Order") in this matter requiring junior groundwater pumpers and other entities seeking to provide replacement water or other mitigation in lieu of curtailment, to file a plan for providing such replacement water with the Director on or before May 30, 2005. In response, IGWA filed an "Initial Plan for Providing Replacement Water" (the "Replacement Plan") with the Director on May 27, 2005.

The Mitigation Plan, on its face, is deficient, and the Director must dismiss the Petition as inadequate, incomplete, and not in conformance with the Conjunctive Management Rules. In addition, the Director has provided inadequate opportunity for parties to analyze the proposed Replacement Plan and submit responses. No time has been allocated for discovery and the Director is apparently planning to approve or deny the Replacement Plan without a hearing by June 6, 2005. The procedure – or, more appropriately, the complete lack thereof – for submitting, reviewing, and approving or denying the Replacement Plan denies due process to all parties involved. Accordingly, the Director should vacate that portion of the Blue Lakes Order expediting submittal and consideration of replacement plans, require IGWA to submit mitigation plans under the Conjunctive Management Rules, if at all, and provide procedural due process to all parties as called for in Idaho Code and the Department's Rules of Procedure. Until such mitigation plans are filed and approved under IDWR's Conjunctive Management Rules and the Rules of Procedure, the Director and IDWR must curtail junior ground water rights as set forth in the Blue Lakes Order to prevent harm to seniors.

III. GROUNDS FOR PROTEST

A. Idaho Power Has Standing to File this Protest

Idaho Power has standing to file this Protest because it holds water rights in Basin 36, water rights at Swan Falls, and contract rights for minimum flows at Swan Falls. These rights and entitlements confer standing on Idaho Power. Accordingly, Idaho Power is an aggrieved party and seeks to protest and dismiss IGWA's Replacement Plan.

1. Idaho Power's Water Rights in Basin 36

Idaho Power's water rights in Basin 36 include the following, all of which have been partially decreed by the SRBA District Court:

Water Right #/Basis	Source	Priority	Amount	Use
36-2704	Niagara Springs	01/31/1966	120.0 cfs	Irrigation, Domestic, Fire Protection, Fish Propagation
36-2082	Billingsley Creek	12/10/1948	5.0 cfs	Irrigation, Cooling, Fire Protection
36-2710	Clear Lake Springs	07/24/1940	0.1 cfs	Irrigation, Cooling, Domestic
36-2037	Spring	10/29/1921	0.3 cfs	Irrigation, Cooling Commercial, Domestic 3 Homes

36-15221	Niagara Springs	03/03/1982	0.04 cfs	Domestic
36-15357	Snow Bank Springs Thousand Springs	09/30/1936	0.11 cfs	Irrigation, Domestic 3 Homes
36-15358	Snow Bank Springs Thousand Springs	06/20/1924	0.03 cfs	Irrigation
36-7104	Springs	12/10/1969	0.3 cfs	Domestic, Irrigation
36-2478	Upper Tucker Springs	10/21/1939	3.21cfs	Irrigation, Stockwater, Cooling, Domestic, Fire Protection
36-15388	Spring	12/10/1949	0.15 cfs	Commercial, Domestic

See EXHIBIT A.

2. Idaho Power's Rights at Swan Falls

Idaho Power holds four water rights at Swan Falls: three licensed rights for 4000 cfs, 1,840 cfs and 1,460 cfs, – and a decreed water right with a 1900 priority for 4,000 cfs. (Water right Nos. 02-2032, 02-4000, 02-4001, and 02-0100 respectively) These water rights are subject to the Swan Falls Agreement (October 25, 1984) and the minimum flow, and other, provisions contained therein, and were decreed by the Ada County District Court in Case Nos. 81375 and 62237. See EXHIBIT B.

B. The IDWR Rules and Idaho Statutory Authority Do Not Recognize "Replacement Plans" and IGWA's Plan Should be Considered Under the Rules for Mitigation Plans

IDWR's rules do not recognize or provide for "replacement plans," and nowhere in IDWR's rules is the term replacement plan defined. Instead, the Conjunctive Management Rules recognize Mitigation Plans. Mitigation Plans are defined as:

A document submitted by the holder(s) of a junior-priority ground water right and approved by the Director as provided in Rule 043 that identifies actions and measures to prevent, or compensate, holders of senior-priority water rights for, material injury caused by the diversion and use of water by the holders of junior-priority ground water rights within an area having a common ground water supply.

Conjunctive Management Rule 10 15; IDAPA 37.03 11.010.15.

This definition matches precisely that which the Director has ordered IGWA and others to file, though the Director has improperly labeled the required filing under the Blue Lakes Order a "replacement plan" instead of a "mitigation plan" and failed to provide the substantive and procedural protections required under Conjunctive Management Rule 43 for mitigation plans. It is not clear why the Director would not simply direct the junior-priority rights holders to file a mitigation plan if they so desire, though it is clear from IDWR's rules that a mitigation plan meeting the standards set forth in Conjunctive Management Rule 43 is the only proper avenue for relief from the Blue Lakes Order requiring curtailment.

The Replacement Plan submitted by IGWA does not meet the substantive standards and criteria set forth in Conjunctive Management Rule 43, and the Replacement Plan should be therefore be dismissed.

C. If the Director Decides Not to Dismiss the Replacement Plan as Deficient, Idaho Power Moves in the Alternative for the Director to Vacate the Proposed Schedule of Approval, and Require Adherence to the Rules of Procedure.

With less than two weeks notice, the Director required IGWA and others to file a "plan for replacement " The Director then stated that he would rule on these plans within 5 working days, without providing any opportunity for objections or protests, and with no intent to hold a hearing on the matter. This expedited procedure has foreclosed any reasonable possibility for Idaho Power and others to review the plan, gather and assess data and evidence relative to the plan, assess the potential impacts of the Replacement Plan on Idaho Power and others, and prepare written comments and requests for hearings to the Director. There is no apparent basis in the IDWR Rules of Procedure for the contemplated action. Accordingly, this expedited schedule will not afford Idaho Power or other senior water users potentially impacted by the Replacement Plan a meaningful opportunity to protect their interests. Idaho Power, therefore, respectfully requests that if the Director denies this Protest and does not dismiss the Replacement Plan, that the Director alternatively vacate the expedited schedule and require that IGWA and others seeking to file plans comply with the substantive and procedural rules governing mitigation plans under Conjunctive Management Rule 43 and IDWR Rules of Procedure.

The process in the Blue Lakes Order is not authorized by any Idaho law or procedure. To the extent that mitigation plans under the Conjunctive Management Rules constitute an authorized process under Idaho law (which Idaho Power does not concede), that process is grounded in, and must be consistent with, the statutory authorization for changes of water rights contained in I.C. § 42-222, which sets forth standards for approval and a process for protests to the proposed change. The "process" set forth in the Blue Lakes Order for the filing and approval of a "replacement plan" does not meet these standards, and has no legal statutory basis or authority. The Director, in the Blue Lakes Order, created an ultra vires process, which on its face denies any other water right holder of due process, and fails to comply with the substance and procedure set forth in Rule 43 and I.C. § 42-222.

An administrative agency, such as IDWR, is bound not only by its own rules and regulations governing administrative actions, but also is bound to ensure that its proceedings meet federal and state due process requirements. See Withrow v. Larkin, 42 U.S. 35, 45 (1975); McClelland v. Andrus, 606 F.2d 1278, 1286 (D.C. Cir. 1979). The Fourteenth Amendment of the United States Constitution and Article 1, Section 13 of the Idaho Constitution prohibit the deprivation of life, liberty or property without due process of law. It is undisputed that individual water rights, such as those at issue here, are protected property rights under the laws of the State of Idaho and, as such, must be afforded the protection of due process before they may be taken or impaired by government action. Nettleton v. Higginson, 558 P.2d 1048 (Idaho 1977)

“Procedural due process is the aspect of due process relating to the minimal requirements of notice and hearing if the deprivation of a life, liberty or property interest may occur.”

Bradberry v. Idaho Judicial Council, 28 P.3d 1006, 1015 (Idaho 2001). Procedural due process requires that the government provide a party with “an opportunity to be heard at a meaningful time and in a meaningful manner.” Id. (Emphasis added). See also Paul v. Board of Professional Discipline of the Idaho State Board of Medicine, 11 P.3d 34, 39 (Idaho 2000).

What constitutes a “meaningful time” and a “meaningful manner” depends on the specific circumstances presented in each case. “Due process, . . . , is not a concept to be applied rigidly in every matter. It is a flexible concept calling for procedural protections as are warranted by the particular situation.” Bradbury, 28 P.3d at 1015.

The Supreme Court has identified three factors for courts to consider in determining the “dictates of due process” in any given case: (1) the interests at stake, (2) the risk of erroneous deprivation of such interests through the procedures used, and the value of additional procedural safeguards, and (3) the fiscal and administrative burden that the additional procedural requirements would entail. See Mathews v. Eldridge, 424 U.S. 319, 335 (1976). In determining what procedural due process requires, Idaho courts have recognized that one fundamental element of procedural due process is the right to present and rebut evidence in defense of protected property interests. Idaho Historic Preservation Council, Inc. v. City Council of City of Boise, 8 P.3d 646, 649 (Idaho 2000); Chambers v. Kootenai County Board of Comm’rs, 867 P.2d 989, 992 (Idaho 1994); Gay v. County Comm’rs of Bonneville County, 651 P.2d 560, 562-63 (Idaho Ct. App. 1982). Other state and federal courts have further held that the right to conduct discovery, although not constitutionally mandated in all administrative cases, is required if necessary to ensure that the party seeking discovery is afforded procedural due process. See Mister Discount Stockbrokers, Inc. v. Securities and Exchange Commission, 768 F.2d 875, 878 (7th Cir. 1985) (because the due process clause ensures that an administrative proceeding will be conducted fairly, discovery must be granted if in the particular situation a refusal to do so would so prejudice a party as to deny him due process); Mohilef v. Janovici, 58 Cal. Rptr.2d 721, 743 (Cal. Ct. App. 1997) (same).

Applying the three factors to the specific circumstances of this case, it is clear that the Director must comply with the procedural protections afforded by the IDWR Conjunctive Management Rules and the Rules of Procedure because a refusal to do so would so prejudice Idaho Power, and other similarly situated water right holders, as to deny them due process. First, the interests at stake in this action are substantial. The Replacement Plan, if accepted, could cause significant and irreversible injury to the surface water rights of not only Idaho Power, but also hundreds of other senior water users.

Second, given the complexity of the issues presented by the Replacement Plan, there is a high risk that a ruling by the Director without the benefit of proper procedural protections for Idaho Power and other senior water rights holders would erroneously deprive Idaho Power and other surface water users of their senior water rights. The Replacement Plan raises highly technical and complex water management issues. The Replacement Plan provides very little substantive detail to support its claims, making it impossible for anyone to analyze the validity of the Replacement Plan on its face. For these same reasons, the Director cannot fully and accurately evaluate the potential impacts of the Replacement Plan on senior water interests.

without first affording those interests an opportunity to gather evidence, review the plan, submit comments and potentially request a hearing on the matter

Finally, providing the parties these minimal procedural protections will not impose a fiscal or administrative burden on the Director. Although procedural due process will delay approval of the Replacement Plan, any fiscal burden will be borne by the parties, not the agency. In light of the interests at stake and the highly technical issues presented, due process mandates that the Director vacate the expedited process.

In summary, should the Director determine not to dismiss the Replacement Plan as deficient, the specific circumstances in this action require the Director to vacate the provisions of the Blue Lakes Order expediting filing and consideration of the Replacement Plan and provide the parties with the procedural protections of the IDWR Conjunctive Management Rules and the Rules of Procedure. A contrary decision by the Director would arbitrarily and capriciously violate the procedural due process requirements of the state and federal constitutions.

D. The Director Must Curtail Junior Ground Water Rights in Accordance with the Blue Lakes Order Pending Approval of any Mitigation Plan.

The Blue Lakes Order finds that specified junior ground water rights must be curtailed in order to avoid injury to senior water rights. While it is entirely proper for IGWA or any other ground water interest to file a mitigation plan for consideration pursuant to established rules of the IDWR, junior ground water rights must be curtailed pending the approval of such a plan. Failure to properly administer junior ground water rights that have already been found to have caused injury will deprive senior water rights holders, including Idaho Power, of the lawful exercise of their property rights. Therefore, failure of the Director to order the curtailment of junior water rights as set forth in the Blue Lakes Order will result in a violation of law and a taking of the lawful property of others. Idaho Power reserves the right to assert further claims against the State of Idaho in the event the Director fails to carry out his duties under the law.

IV. REQUEST FOR RELIEF

Based on the foregoing, Idaho Power Company respectfully requests that the Director take the following action with respect to the District's proposed mitigation plan:

1. Dismiss the Replacement Plan as incomplete under Conjunctive Management Rule 43;
2. In the alternative, vacate the expedited process for consideration of the Replacement Plan.
3. Curtail junior ground water pumpers until mitigation plans meeting all aspects and requirements of Conjunctive Management Rule 43 have been approved

PROVISIONS, NUNC PRO TUNC

A Partial Decree was entered for the above-captioned irrigation water right on November 25, 1997. The period of use element was decreed as "irrigation season." In A&B Irrigation Dist. v. Idaho Conservation League, 131 Idaho 411, 423, 958 P.2d 568, 580 (1998), the Idaho Supreme Court remanded with the directive to include specific dates for the period of use element. Following remand, IDWR filed a Supplemental Director's Report, Reporting Area 3, IDWR Basin 36, Regarding Revision of Period of use (For Irrigation Water Uses) and Conjunctive Management General Provisions, which included an irrigation period of use recommendation for this water right. No objections were filed to this recommendation and the time period for filing objections has now expired.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the period of use for the irrigation element of the above-captioned water right is hereby amended and decreed as:

PERIOD OF USE: 02-15 11-30

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Partial Decree for the above-captioned water right is hereby amended and decreed to contain the following:

This partial decree is subject to such general provisions necessary for the definition of the rights or for the efficient administration of the water rights as may be ultimately determined by the court at a point in time no later than the entry of a final unified decree. I.C. section 42-1412(6).

This order is being entered nunc pro tunc as of the date the Partial Decree was issued and is not intended to modify any subsequent administrative changes for the water right, if any, which occurred following entry of the Partial Decree.

Water Right 36-02478

ORDER AMENDING IRRIGATION PERIOD OF USE ELEMENT IN PARTIAL DECREE AND INCORPORATING INTO PARTIAL DECREE AN EXPRESS STATEMENT REGARDING GENERAL
PROVISIONS, NUNC PRO TUNC

A Partial Decree was entered for the above-captioned irrigation water right on November 24, 1997. The period of use element was decreed as "irrigation season." In A&B Irrigation Dist. v. Idaho Conservation League, 131 Idaho 411, 423, 958 P.2d 568, 580 (1998), the Idaho Supreme Court remanded with the directive to include specific dates for the period of use element. Following remand, IDWR filed a Supplemental Director's Report, Reporting Area 3, IDWR Basin 36, Regarding Revision of Period of use (For Irrigation Water Uses) and Conjunctive Management General Provisions, which included an irrigation period of use recommendation for this water right. No objections were filed to this recommendation and the time period for filing objections has now expired.

THEREFORE, IT IS ORDERED that the period of use for the irrigation element of the above-captioned water right is hereby amended and decreed as:

PERIOD OF USE: 02-15 11-30

IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the Partial Decree for the above-captioned water right is hereby amended and decreed to contain the following:

This partial decree is subject to such general provisions necessary for the definition of the rights or for the efficient administration of the water rights as may be ultimately determined by the court at a point in time no later than the entry of a final unified decree. I.C. section 42-1412(6).

This order is being entered nunc pro tunc as of the date the Partial Decree was issued and is not intended to modify any subsequent administrative changes for the water right, if any, which occurred following entry of the Partial Decree.

RULE 54(b) CERTIFICATE

With respect to the issues determined by the above judgment or order, it is hereby CERTIFIED, in accordance with Rule 54(b), I.R.C.P., that the court has determined that there is no just reason for delay of the entry of a final judgment and that the court has and does hereby direct that the above judgment or order shall be a final judgment upon which execution may issue and an appeal may be taken as provided by the Idaho Appellate Rules.
